

The Latest Insight

State Administration of Taxation updates selected IIT Policies

[25 September, 2009 Issues 14]

On 17th August 2009, the State Administration of Taxation (SAT) issued tax notice Guo Shui Fa (2009) No. 121 (hereafter referred to as Notice No.121), which clarifies several issues relating to individual income tax (IIT) liabilities in China.

Double Pay

Based on Guo Shui Han (2002) No. 629, for the purpose of calculating IIT, double pay should be treated separately as a monthly salary although the statutory expenses are not allowed to be deducted from the double pay. Notice No. 121 canceled this. In other words, double pay should be either treated as yearly bonus, or be added to the current month's salary for IIT calculation purpose.

Director's Fee

Based on Guo Shui Fa (1996) No. 214, where an individual serves as both an employee and a director of a company (or a related company), he/she may separately report his/her salaries and director's fees for IIT calculation purpose. Notice No. 121 also canceled this. Director's fees should be taken as part of the salary when calculating IIT.

Overseas Chinese

A Chinese citizen may be treated as overseas Chinese for IIT calculation purpose only if:

- He/ She has obtained long term or permanent residence in a foreign country and he/she has lived in that foreign country for at least 18 months cumulatively in a consecutive two-year period;
- He/she has not obtained long term or permanent residence in a foreign country, but has obtained legal residence in that country for 5 consecutive years or longer, and has cumulatively lived in that country for at least 30 months in the 5 years.

Chinese citizens, who are studying or seconded to work overseas are not treated as overseas Chinese for IIT calculation purpose.

Residence Property Transfer due to Divorce

Residence property transfer as a result of divorce should not be subject to IIT. The subsequent transfer of the property obtained as a result of divorce shall be subject to IIT policies applicable to normal residence property transfer, with the original value of the property calculated as: total original purchase value of the property plus related taxes and fees x proportion owned by the transferor.

As a result of the implementation of Notice No. 121, the overall IIT liabilities of individuals concerned may be affected. Individuals are recommended to re-examine their IIT packages accordingly.

Upcoming LB Events

LehmanBrown welcomes the University of Notre Dame, USA

12th October 2009

Beijing

LehmanBrown and Montpelier Offshore Company Formation

Beijing 22nd October 2009

Shanghai 28th October 2009

British Charity Ball Beijing

Saturday 24th October 2009

Kerry Center Hotel, Beijing

Recent e-Newsletters

- LehmanBrown International Accountants co-organises and sponsors: John Prescott: Off-the-Record
- China Internal Control Standard for Listed Companies: Effective 1st July 2009
- Liberalization of trade in services between Hong Kong and Mainland China under CEPA
- Criteria for foreign MNCs establishing Regional Headquarters in Shanghai
- Shanghai Incentives to attract Foreign Investments
- The State Administration of Taxation Releases New Circular to Strengthen Tax Collection and Administration
- HOW TO CALCULATE VAT REBATES
- China Increases the Export Value-Added Tax Refund Rates for Textile Products, Certain Electronic Products and Other Commodities
- Measures for Determining Value of Goods and Articles Contravening the PRC Customs Regulations
- The Objectives and Benefits of an Internal Audit
- New transfer pricing regulations and their impact on foreign businesses in China
- Business Tax - Enlargement of scope of charge
- Shanghai: New provision on the establishment of regional HQs by foreign MNCs

Go to Top

"Providing an alternative in China"

Insights is LehmanBrown's official client-focused e-newsletter. It offers updates on the latest business news, taxation and accounting regulations in the People's Republic of China. It is designed to provide you with interesting and informative information to assist in your dealings with China or any China-related issues that you may encounter.

Business-related enquiries can be emailed to beijing@lehmanbrown.com.